

REQUIRING PASSPORTS (APRIL 2005)

Homeland Security wants to require US citizens to have passports for all re-entry into the country. This may be prudent to help secure our borders. However, the $97 cost for a new passport is prohibitive for many. We should not imprison our citizens within our borders because they can not afford a passport. If Homeland Security requires passports for all citizens, Homeland Security should pay for them.